Game 9: vs. Virginia • Nov. 9, 2013 • Chapel Hill, N.C. • 12:30 p.m.

Oldest Rivalry In The South Resumes in Chapel Hill

Riding a two-game win streak, North Carolina returns home to play host to Virginia on Saturday, Nov. 9, at 12:30 p.m. The Tar Heels' homecoming game will be broadcast on the ACC Network.

Carolina improved to 3-5 overall and 2-3 in the ACC after scoring a 27-19 win over NC State last Saturday in Raleigh. The Tar Heels were led by a potent two-quarterback system and a solid defensive performance. Carolina passers combined to complete 24 of 38 attempts for 275 yards and two touchdowns. Williams also led the team in rushing with 51 yards and Renner scored his fourth career rushing touchdown on a 1-yard run. The UNC defense held the Wolfpack to just one offensive touchdown on a 24-yard drive after an opening possession turnover. It was the Tar Heels' first win in Raleigh since 2005 and Larry Fedora became just the fourth coach in UNC history to start 2-0 vs. the Wolfpack.

Carolina now turns its attention to Virginia, which enters the game 2-7 overall and 0-5 in conference action. The Cavaliers lost last week to No. 8 Clemson, 59-10.

Saturday's game is the 118th edition of the "Oldest Rivalry In The South." Only three other rivals have played more often. Carolina is part of three of the longest rivalry series in ACC history against Virginia (117 previous meetings), Wake Forest (105) and NC State (103).

Carolina has won three straight against the Wahoos for the first time since winning nine straight from 1974-82. The average margin of victory in the last three games is 23.0 points. Last season, Carolina won at Virginia in an ESPN Thursday night game, 37-13.

Quick Hits

- Over the last 12 quarters, Carolina has allowed just four offensive touchdowns - two vs. Miami, one vs. Boston College and one vs. NC State. All four have been rushing touchdowns. Carolina has not allowed a passing TD in the last three games.
- Over the last two UNC games, both wins, the opponents have started 26 of 29 drives on their side of the 50-yard line.
- Carolina's first six opponents this season all have a winning record and are a combined 37-15 (.712). The Tar Heels last six opponents are 25-25 (.500) and only two have a winning record (Old Dominion and Duke).
- Freshman tailback T.J. Logan scored his first career touchdown in the win at NC State on a 14-yard run in the fourth quarter to give the Tar Heels a 27-19 lead. Logan had 43 yards on five carries, including four attempts for 30 yards in the fourth quarter. Logan averaged 8.6 yards per carry.
- The Tar Heels compiled 427 yards of total offense against NC State, led by 275 through the air. Three different players (Bryn Renner 124 yards, Marquise Williams 92 yards and wide receiver Ryan Switzer 59 yards) combined to complete 24 of 38 pass attempts for 275 yards and two touchdowns. Switzer is the fourth different Tar Heel to throw a touchdown pass this year (Renner, Williams, Davis and Switzer).
- Carolina's defense allowed just 59 passing yards in the win over Boston College, the fewest by an opponent since Clemson threw for 37 yards in a UNC win in Death Valley on Nov. 15, 1997. The Tar Heels allowed just 10 points, the fewest since a shutout victory last year vs. Idaho.
- TE Eric Ebron has 669 yards receiving and is 202 yards shy of the ACC single-season record for receiving yards by a tight end, set by Maryland's Vernon Davis with 871 in 2005. Ebron has 44 catches and is 26 receptions shy of the ACC record for catches by a tight end, set by Virginia's Heath Miller with 70 in 2003.
- Ebron currently ranks third on the ACC single-season record book chart for receiving yards by a tight end.
- QB Marquise Williams has been the Tar Heels' leading rusher in three of the last four games. He had a team-high 56 rushing yards vs. Virginia Tech, 55 vs. Boston College and 51 vs. NC State.
- WR Quinshad Davis has already caught 93 passes in his first two seasons. Only two other Tar Heels caught more passes as a freshman and sophomore than Davis - Hakeem Hicks (113) and Jarworski Pollock (102).
- Four Tar Heels have made 30 or more starts. OT James Hurst leads the way with 44, followed by DE Kareem Martin (36), S Tre Boston (35) and QB Bryn Renner (32).

All-America Candidate Eric Ebron Sets School Marks

All-America candidate Eric Ebron leads the team with 44 catches for 669 yards and has three touchdowns. He set the UNC single-season school record for receptions and receiving yards by a tight end in 2013, breaking school records he set just a year ago when he had 40 catches for 625 yards.
Ebron was named a first-team midseason All-America by Phil Steele and a second-team pick by SI.com and CBSsports.com.
Ebron hauled in a career-high eight catches for a career-high 199 yards and his third touchdown of the season in Carolina's 27-23 loss to No. 10 Miami to earn Mackey Award national tight end of the week honors. His 199 yards are a single-game UNC record for receiving yards by a tight end and the sixth-most by any Carolina player. The previous mark was 144 yards, set by Tony Blanchard against Wake Forest in 1968. Ebron scored on a 71-yard catch and run in the first quarter, his eighth career touchdown.
Ebron is on pace to catch 66 passes. The last time a tight end led Carolina in receptions was Mike Chatham with 20 in 1980. The only tight ends to ever lead the Tar Heels in receptions were Mike Chatham (1979, 1980), Bob Loomis (1978), Brooks Williams (1977) and Tony Blanchard (1969).
Ebron leads all ACC tight ends in both receptions per game (5.5) and yards receiving per game (83.6). In the overall ACC rankings, he is eighth in receptions per game and seventh in receiving yards per game.
Nationally, Ebron is ranked second among tight ends in receiving yards per game (83.6) and second in receptions per game (5.5) behind only Texas Tech's Jace Amaro.
Ebron caught six passes for 108 yards and a touchdown against Georgia Tech. The touchdown, a one-handed 19-yard reception in the second quarter, was featured on SportsCenter's Top 10 Plays.
Ebron finished with six catches for 70 yards and a touchdown at Virginia Tech. His scoring grab was a spectacular catch in traffic in the second quarter.
Ebron caught a career high nine passes for 70 yards (his previous high was eight against Miami) in the win at NC State.
Ebron caught four passes for 67 yards and had two rushing attempts for seven yards. Those were the first rushing attempts of his collegiate career.
In the last three games against Miami, Boston College and NC State, Ebron has 21 catches for 336 yards.

Playing At Kenan Stadium

North Carolina is 14-4 at Kenan Stadium since 2011 (6-1 in 2011, 6-1 in 2012, 2-2 in 2013). The Tar Heels are 8-3 at Kenan Stadium under Larry Fedora with wins over Virginia Tech, NC State, Maryland, Elon, Idaho, ECU, MTSU and Boston College. The losses were to Georgia Tech (2012), East Carolina (2013) and Miami (2013).

Carolina-Virginia Series Notes

North Carolina leads the series with Virginia, 60-53-4, and has won three straight in the series for the first time since winning nine in a row from 1974-82.
Saturday's game will be the 118th meeting in the rivalry known as the "Oldest Rivalry in the South." Only three other rivals in the country have played more often.
North Carolina's final game of the regular season was typically played against Virginia prior to 1950. In fact, from 1919-1950, Carolina played its regular season finale vs. Virginia 28 of 32 times.
Six scholarship Tar Heels are from Virginia, including junior offensive tackle Nick Appel (Vienna), junior center Russell Bodine (Scottsville), junior linebacker Travis Hughes (Virginia Beach), senior quarterback Bryn Renner (West Springfield), junior cornerback Tim Scott (Fredericksburg) and sophomore offensive guard Landon Turner (Harrisonburg). Five of the six are starters.
Corey Holliday, Carolina's Assistant Athletic Director for Football Administration and a former Tar Heel standout, is a native of Richmond, Va. Holliday ranks second at UNC in career receiving yardage.
Many of Carolina's greatest football players have hailed from the state of Virginia. A short list includes NFL Hall of Fame linebacker Lawrence Taylor (Williamsburg), two-time ACC Player of the Year Mike Voight

Another Early Start

Saturday's game vs. Virginia is the sixth (out of nine) game this season that has started at noon or 12:30 p.m. It is the fifth time the Tar Heels have been selected as the ACC Game of the Week on the ACC Network.

Postgame Notes vs. NC State

• Carolina's win was its first at Carter-Finley Stadium since a 31-24 victory in 2005. The Tar Heels improved to 28-14-4 in Raleigh.

• Larry Fedora is one of four UNC head coaches to win his first two games against NC State. The others are Ray Wolf, George Barclay and Carl Torbush.

• Carolina trailed 10-0 just 7:48 into the opening quarter, then outscored the Wolfpack 27-9 over the final 52 minutes and 12 seconds. The Tar Heel defense did not allow a touchdown over the final 57:47. State's only touchdown came on a 24-yard drive after an opening possession turnover by the Tar Heels.

• For just the third time in the last 22 games played between UNC and NC State the winning team was outgained running the football. State outgained the Tar Heels, 212-152. The only other years in that span in which the winning team was outgained on the ground were in 2004 and 2009 (all three including today were UNC victories).

• Carolina rushed for a season-high 152 yards. Its previous high was 134 against Middle Tennessee State.
• The Tar Heels compiled 427 yards of total offense, led by 275 through the air. Three different players (Bryn Renner 124 yards, Marquise Williams 92 yards and wide receiver Ryan Switzer 59 yards) combined to complete 24 of 38 pass attempts for 275 yards and two touchdowns.

• Carolina picked off four passes in its first five games this season and has six pass thefts in the last three contests.

• Punter Tommy Hibbard averaged 40.9 yards on eight punts, but dropped four of those eight kicks inside the NC State 20-yard line. He kicked a 43-yarder downed the State 2-yard line by Jabari Price; a 46-yarder downed at the Pack 5-yard line by Price, a 39-yarder fair caught at the 11; and a 31-yarder with 6:20 to play in the game that went out of bounds at the Wolfpack 9-yard line.

• NC State began 14 of its 16 drives on its side of midfield and one on the UNC 49-yard line. The other was the Pack's initial drive of the game, which began at the Tar Heel 24 following an interception.

Defensive Play Picking Up

• North Carolina's defense has show steady improvement over the last few weeks. Over the last 12 quarters of play, the Tar Heels have allowed just four offensive touchdowns - two vs. Miami, one vs. Boston College and one vs. NC State.

• Carolina allowed just 10 points in a 34-10 victory over Boston College. The 10 points are the fewest allowed by the Tar Heels since a 66-0 win over Idaho on Sept. 29, 2012. It is the lowest scoring output by an ACC opponent since a 44-10 win at Virginia on Oct. 16, 2010.

• In the win over Boston College, Carolina converted 8 of 16 on third down and held the Eagles to 5 of 16 on third down and 0 for 1 on fourth down. NC State converted just 6 of 17 third down attempts and was 0 for 1 on fourth down. In the last two games, opponents have converted just 33 percent of third down chances.

• Carolina's defense allowed just 59 passing yards against BC, the fewest by an opponent since Clemson threw for 37 yards in a UNC win in Death Valley on Nov. 15, 1997. The previous low passing yardage figure this year was 104 by Georgia Tech.

A Win Over Virginia Would...

- Improve the Tar Heels' record to 4-5 overall and 3-3 in the ACC.
- Be Carolina's fourth-consecutive win over Virginia, the longest streak winning nine straight from 1974-82.
- Be Carolina's second-consecutive win over Virginia in Kenan Stadium. Carolina has not won two straight at home against Virginia since taking the 1995 and 1997 games.

A Look At Each Half Of The Schedule

• According to USA Today's Sagarin rankings, Carolina has played the 26th-most difficult schedule to date this season. Prior to the Boston College game, Carolina had played the fourth-most difficult schedule.

• Four of Carolina's first six opponents are ranked in the top 39 of the Sagarin rankings. In the final four games of the year, no team is ranked higher than 49 (Duke). Entering the Nov. 9 weekend, South Carolina was No. 14 in the Sagarin rankings, followed by No. 29 Miami, No. 33 Georgia Tech and No. 39 Virginia Tech.

• The first six opponents have a combined record of 37-15 (.712), compared to a 25-25 (.500) mark by the final six teams on the slate.

BY THE NUMBERS

2 - Carolina had two players earn midseason All-America honors – tight end Eric Ebron and offensive tackle James Hurst. Ebron was a first-team pick by Phil Steele and a second-team selection by SI.com and CBSsports.com. Hurst was a first-team pick by Yahoo Sports’ Dr. Saturday.

4 - Renner needs four touchdown passes to match the career school record of 68 set by Darian Durant from 2001-04.

10 - Bryn Renner has passed for 300 yards 10 times in his career, the most of any quarterback in UNC history.

24 - After making eight catches in the first three games this season, sophomore Quinshad Davis has 24 receptions in his last five games.

44 - Tight end Eric Ebron has caught 44 passes this season, which is a single-season school record for receptions by a tight end. He broke the previous mark of 40 that he set in 2012.

73.3 - Carolina is averaging 73.3 plays per game this season, down slightly from the 74.8 per game in Fedora’s first season in 2012. Carolina ran 86 plays vs NC State in 2012, the most at UNC since 2003. In 2011, Carolina averaged 63.4 plays per game, which ranked 117th in the country.

151.22 - Quarterback Bryn Renner has a career pass efficiency mark of 151.22. The ACC career pass efficiency record is 151.2 set by Florida State’s Chris Weinke from 1997-2000.

669 - Eric Ebron has 669 receiving yards this year, the North Carolina single-season record for yards by a tight end. He broke the record of 625 that he set in 2012.

1,157 - Renner needs 1,157 passing yards to move past T.J. Yates as the school’s all-time leader in passing yards.

3,000 - If Renner throws for 3,000 yards in 2013, Carolina will match NC State as the only two ACC teams with a QB to throw for 3,000 yards in four consecutive years. Yates had a single-season record 3,418 yards in 2010 and Renner had 3,086 in 2011 and 3,356 in 2012.

Bryn Renner One of Top Quarterbacks In The Country

• Considered by many NFL Draft analysts one of the top five senior quarterbacks in the country, Bryn Renner is in his third season as the Tar Heels’ starting signal caller. Since taking over in 2011, Renner has put up some outstanding numbers and is on the verge of setting nearly every career passing mark at UNC.

• This season, Renner has completed 152 of 231 attempts for 1,765 yards, 10 touchdowns and five interceptions.

• Renner has 64 career touchdown passes, which ranks second in school history. He is four shy of UNC’s all-time mark of 68 set by Darian Durant from 2001-04.

• Renner now has 8,221 career passing yards, good for 20th all-time in the ACC. He moved past Georgia Tech’s Reggie Ball (8,128) in the win over NC State.

• Renner completed 15 of 22 pass attempts for 124 yards in the win over NC State. He also scored on a 1-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. It was his second rushing TD of the season and fourth of his career.

• Renner completed 18 of 21 passes for 227 yards and two touchdowns against Boston College. His completion percentage of .857 (18 for 21) was the second-highest of his career. He was 22 for 23 (.957) in his first start in 2011 against James Madison.

• Renner completed 28 of 36 passes for 297 yards and a touchdown against Miami. It was his second straight game with 28 completions, which equaled his third-most in any game.

• Renner established a new single-game UNC record for consecutive completions with 15 against Miami, breaking the previous record of 14 set by Kevin Anthony vs. Wake Forest in 1985, Jason Stanicek vs. NC State in 1992 and Renner against James Madison in 2011. Renner also holds the overall record with 19 straight completions across two games in 2011.

• Renner completed 28 of 46 passes for a career-high 366 yards and three touchdowns against East Carolina. It was the 10th career game in which Renner has thrown at least three touchdown passes. It was also his 10th career game with 300 or more passing yards, extending his own school record.

• Renner completed 23 of 34 pass attempts for 339 yards and a touchdown in a 40-20 win over MTSU. Renner saw his career-best streak of pass attempts without an interception snapped at 140 in the second quarter vs. MTSU. The school record for consecutive pass attempts without an interception is 154 (Oscar Davenport, 1996-97).

• Renner is just the third player in Carolina history to reach 8,000 career passing yards. He currently ranks 21st on the ACC career chart with 8,097 passing yards.

• Renner has thrown for more than 3,000 yards in each of the last two seasons and needs 1,281 passing yards in 2013 to break T.J. Yates’ career mark of 9,377. Renner and Yates are the only two Carolina quarterbacks to throw for more than 3,000 yards in a season and Renner is the only player to do it twice.

• If Renner throws for 3,000 yards in 2013, Carolina will match NC State as the only two ACC teams with a quarterback to throw for 3,000 yards in four consecutive years. Yates had a single-season record 3,418 yards in 2010 and Renner had 3,086 in 2011 and 3,356 in 2012.

• In 2012, Renner completed 276 of 422 attempts for 3,356 yards and a single-season school record 28 touchdowns in 12 games. In his first year as a starter in 2011, he accumulated 3,086 passing yards in 13 games.

Marquise Williams Seeing More Time At Quarterback

• Sophomore QB Marquise Williams has seen his playing time increase in recent weeks and is enjoying success both passing and running the ball. Williams has completed 40 of 66 attempts for 537 yards and six touchdowns, while rushing 50 times for 201 yards and a touchdown. He has been sacked just twice and has a quarterback rating of 149.86.

• Williams made his first career start at Virginia Tech in place of starter Bryn Renner who was out with a foot injury. Williams completed 23 of 35 passes for 277 yards and two touchdowns in the 27-17 loss.

• Williams rushed 18 times for team-high 56 yards against the Hokies, which is the most rushing yards by a UNC quarterback since Williams had 61 yards last season against Idaho. It also marked the first time a quarterback led the team in rushing since Durant vs. Duke in 2003.

• Williams completed 4 of 7 passes for 98 yards and touchdown against Miami. His 71-yard scoring pass to Eric Ebron was his longest career completion and Carolina’s longest play from scrimmage in 2013. Williams also rushed five times for 27 yards.

TAR HEELS IN NCAA COACHING

Among Tar Heel lettermen in the college coaching ranks, most notable over the last year was Ron Burton moving after a decade at Air Force as defensive line coach to Michigan State to take a similar position. Tommy Thigpen moved from Auburn to Tennessee, and Allen Mogridge moved from Central Florida to Temple.

Former head coach Carl Torbush announced his retirement as linebackers coach at Liberty University in the off-season but then was hired in early summer as the new head coach at East Tennessee State. ETSU discontinued its football program in 2003 but will return to the field in 2015 in the Southern Conference.

Meanwhile, the following lettermen were on college coaching staffs to begin the 2013 season.

- Rod Broadway, N.C. A&T head coach
Ron Burton, Michigan State D-line
Joe Dailey, Liberty QBs
John Dunn, Maryland TEs, recruiting coordinator
Tommy Thigpen, Tennessee LBs
Antonio Goss, Furman nickel backs, special teams coordinator
Billy Hite, Virginia Tech assistant to the head coach
Stuart Holt, South Florida special teams coordinator
Landon Mariani, Campbell QBs, offensive coordinator
Allen Mogridge, Temple O-line
Kevin Wilson, Indiana head coach
Chad Scott, Kentucky RBs
Bob Trott, Richmond defensive coordinator

- Williams rushed seven times for a team-high 55 yards and a touchdown in the win over Boston College. He also completed 4 of 8 passes for 55 yards and a touchdown, his fifth of the season.
Williams led UNC's ground attack in the win at NC State with 51 yards on 17 carries. It is the third time in Carolina's last four games that Williams, a quarterback, has been the Tar Heels' leading ball carrier. Williams had 17 carries - no other Tar Heel had more than five. Williams also completed 8 of 15 pass attempts for 92 yards, including a 2-yard touchdown pass to Quinshad Davis.

Quinshad Davis

- All-ACC candidate Quinshad Davis leads the team with seven touchdown receptions and is second on the squad with 32 catches for 476 yards. He also has thrown a touchdown pass this year.
Davis has already caught 93 passes in his first two seasons. Only two other Tar Heels caught more passes as a freshman and sophomore than Davis - Hakeem Hicks (113) and Jarworski Pollock (102).
After posting just eight catches in the first three games of the season, Davis has 24 in his last five against ECU, Virginia Tech, Miami, Boston College and NC State.
Davis has 12 career touchdown receptions, including five in 2012 and seven in 2013. He needs just one more to crack the top 10 single-season receiving TD chart at UNC.
Davis caught two passes for 61 yards and two touchdowns in the win over NC State. He caught a fade pass from QB Marquise Williams in the corner of the end zone in the first quarter to cut the Wolfpack lead to 10-7. He later caught a 59-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter from WR Ryan Switzer.
Davis had a season-high eight catches for 81 yards against Miami.
In the loss at Virginia Tech, Davis caught a season-high six passes for 94 yards and a touchdown.
Davis had five catches for 111 yards and a touchdown against ECU. He also threw a 32-yard touchdown pass to T.J. Thorpe on his first career pass attempt. It was his fourth career 100-yard receiving game and his first such-game this season.
A year ago, the 6-4, 205-pound wide receiver set UNC freshman records with 61 receptions and 776 receiving yards. A native of Gaffney, S.C., Davis added approximately 20 pounds in the offseason without losing any speed.
Last year against Virginia, Davis finished with Carolina single-game freshman records of 16 catches and 178 yards. The previous records were nine catches (Octavus Barnes vs. Texas, 1994 Sun Bowl) and 171 yards (Hakeem Nicks at Notre Dame, 2006). The 16 catches match the ACC record for all players, tied most recently by Wake Forest's Michael Campanaro. Davis is one of six ACC players with 16 receptions in a game.
Davis concluded the 2012 season second in ACC history for catches by a freshman and fourth in receiving yards by a freshman.

Howard Bugging Opposing Defenses

- Freshman wide receiver Bug Howard has elevated his game over the last few weeks and currently ranks second on the team with four receiving touchdowns. He is fifth on the squad with 17 receptions for 205 yards. Eight of those 17 receptions came in the last two weeks in wins over Boston College and NC State.
Howard caught five passes for a season-high 72 yards at NC State, including an acrobatic 24-yarder in the final quarter that led to the game-clinching touchdown run by Logan.
Howard caught three passes for 31 yards and a pair of touchdowns against Boston College. The true freshman now has four touchdowns on the season, one behind Quinshad Davis for the team lead.

Switzer Playing a Starring Role

- Freshman WR Ryan Switzer has played every game this season, but has made his presence felt the most in the last two games against Boston College and NC State. He had his first collegiate touchdown catch, a 13-yard scoring strike from Bryn Renner, in the home win against the Eagles. The following week, he tossed a 59-yard touchdown pass to Quinshad Davis at NC State. It was Switzer's first career touchdown pass. He is the second wide receiver to throw a touchdown pass this year. The other was Davis to T.J. Thorpe against East Carolina. Four different Tar Heels have thrown scoring passes this year.

Sean Tapley

- Junior WR Sean Tapley has 14 catches for 193 yards in 2013. He caught four passes for a career-high 93 yards in a 40-20 victory over Middle Tennessee. The next week at Georgia Tech he two catches for 36 yards, including a 24-yard touchdown reception.
Tapley also returns kickoffs for the Tar Heels and ranks third in the ACC with a 24.7-yard average.

Searching For Running Game Answers

With the early departure of standout tailback Giovanni Bernard to the NFL following the 2012 season, Carolina turned the running game over to sophomore Romar Morris, senior A.J. Blue and freshmen Khris Francis and T.J. Logan. Both Morris and Blue are accomplished runners who provided several highlights in 2012, but have been called upon to do much more this year.

A.J. BLUE

- Blue, who Fedora describes as the team's best leader, was second on the team in rushing a year ago with 433 yards and nine touchdowns. He also had nine receptions and scored a touchdown. He and Bernard (19) combined to set a single-season school record for most touchdowns by a pair of teammates.

- Blue is a powerful runner who made his first career start at tailback at Wake Forest after Bernard was injured in the season opener. Blue came into the game with 210 career rushing yards, but gained a career-best 106 on 19 carries against the Deacs. His previous single-game high was 39 yards against Elon in the previous week. Blue played as a true freshman in 2009 as a wildcat quarterback, redshirted in 2010 and rushed for 138 yards in backup duty in 2011. He also got the start at Louisville and finished with 43 yards on seven carries, a 6.1 average.

- In 2013, Blue has a team-high 70 attempts for 266 yards and a touchdown. Blue rushed eight times for 25 yards and scored his first touchdown of the season against Boston College. Blue had 11 career touchdowns entering the season, including 10 last year when he combined with Giovanni Bernard (19) for a school-record 29 touchdowns (most for a pair of teammates).

ROMAR MORRIS

- This season, Morris has 49 rushes for 214 yards (4.4 avg.) and three rushing touchdowns. Morris scored his first two touchdowns of the season against Middle Tennessee, a 26-yard scamper in the first quarter and a 1-yard plunge in the second. Morris gained 46 rushing yards on 10 carries in addition to two catches for five yards. Morris scored his third touchdown of the season, a 4-yard rush in the first quarter against Georgia Tech. He finished the game with 54 rushing yards on 11 carries. He did not play in Carolina's 55-31 loss to ECU.

Morris is a speedy back who can also return kicks. He rushed for 386 yards and was effective in the passing game last year, making 12 catches for 204 yards (17.0 avg.) in 2012. He scored twice on the ground and twice through the air. A native of Salisbury, N.C., Morris was named the top athlete in the state as a senior and redshirted in 2011. He is a member of the Tar Heels' track team and ran the fifth-fastest 60-meter dash time (6.85 seconds) in school history during the 2012-13 indoor season.

KHRIS FRANCIS

- True Freshman TB Khris Francis has 33 carries for 112 yards on the season. He saw his first collegiate action against Middle Tennessee and gained 42 yards on 10 carries.

T.J. LOGAN

- True Freshman T.J. Logan has 31 carries for 130 yards and a touchdown this season. He also has six catches for 83 yards.

- Logan saw his first career action in the loss at Virginia Tech and had five carries for 25 yards and one reception for eight yards. He did not play in the first four games due to a knee injury. Logan made his first collegiate start in just his second game of the season (missed the first four due to injury) and gained 61 yards on 16 carries and had two catches for 18 yards.

- Logan scored his first career touchdown in the win at NC State on a 14-yard run in the fourth quarter to give the Tar Heels a 27-19 lead. Logan had 43 yards on five carries, including four attempts for 30 yards in the fourth quarter. Logan averaged 8.6 yards per carry.

Noting the Tar Heels Offense

- Carolina has posted more than 500 yards of total offense six times in 20 games under Larry Fedora.
- UNC has gained at least 400 yards in 16 of Fedora's 20 games as head coach. The four games Carolina has been held under 400 yards came this season at South Carolina, at Georgia Tech, at Virginia Tech and vs. Boston College.

- Carolina has scored 40 or more points in seven of 20 games under head coach Larry Fedora.
- The Tar Heels gained 511 total offense yards in a 40-20 victory over Middle Tennessee on Sept. 7.
- Since 2012, Carolina is averaging 42.5 points per game at Kenan Stadium (11 games) and 24.4 points per game on the road (9 games).

Kareem Martin

- Senior Kareem Martin is the headliner on North Carolina's defense. He currently has 55 tackles, including 12.5 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks. Martin registered a career-high 10 tackles, including seven solo stops, against Georgia Tech.

- Martin had eight tackles, including four for losses of 18 yards and a 10-yard sack, against Miami. He also had two quarterback hurries.

- In the win at NC State, Martin made eight tackles, including three tackles for losses of 11 yards, one of which was a 7-yard sack. He also forced a fumble.
- Martin was among the league leaders in tackles for loss in 2012 and has plenty of 2013 preseason accolades. He has been named preseason All-ACC by most media outlets and should once again be under consideration for the Ted Hendricks Award (nation's top defensive end). A senior from Roanoke Rapids, N.C., Martin collected 40 tackles, including 15.5 for loss and four sacks, in 2012. He also broke up three passes, forced a fumble and recovered a fumble.

Tre Boston

- All-ACC candidate Tre Boston has a team-high three interceptions and has posted 39 tackles on the season. He had a spectacular one-handed interception in the end zone against Middle Tennessee to snuff out a Blue Raider drive in the first quarter. He now has intercepted a pass in each of his four seasons as a Tar Heel. He picked off his 11th career pass against Miami. His 11 career interceptions ranks seventh at UNC.

Freshmen See Action

Nine true freshmen and six redshirt freshmen have played this season. The true freshmen are tailback T.J. Logan, tailback Khris Francis, safety Dominique Green, wide receiver Bug Howard, wide receiver Ryan Switzer, defensive back Brian Walker, bandit Mikey Bart, cornerback Des Lawrence and center Lucas Crowley. Green made the first tackle of the college football season on the opening kickoff of the game at No. 6 South Carolina. The redshirt freshmen who have played are offensive tackle Jon Heck, offensive guard Caleb Peterson, defensive end Junior Gnonkonde, place-kicker Nick Weiler, tailback Charles Brunson and wide receiver Mack Hollins.

No Barth Brother in 2012

For the first time in nine years, North Carolina does not have a place-kicker with the last name Barth. Since 2004, kickers Connor and Casey Barth combined to make 120 field goals, 263 extra points and score 623 points. Natives of Wilmington, N.C., the Barth brothers hold nearly ever single-season and career place-kicking record at UNC.

In 2004, Connor came to Chapel Hill with a surfboard, shaggy blond hair and a care-free demeanor. That low-key approach paid off as he calmly drilled a 42-yard game-winning field goal against No. 4 Miami as time expired. He went on to kick 54 field goals at UNC and sign an NFL free agent contract. He is now the starting kicker for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and has connected on 101 field goals as a professional.

After Connor left Chapel Hill, his younger brother Casey joined the team in 2008. Casey made at least 10 field goals in each of his first three years, including a school-record-tying 21 as a sophomore. Barth injured his groin in 2011 and received a medical redshirt after kicking in just three games. He returned in 2012 and made 15 of 19 field goals and all 44 extra point attempts before missing the last two games with an ankle injury. He concluded his career as the career record-holder in points (358), field goals made (66) and extra points (160). Casey inked a free agent deal after the NFL Draft with the Atlanta Falcons.

Carolina has turned to junior Thomas Moore to handle place-kicking duties in 2013. Moore, a former walk-on from Chapel Hill, made six of 10 field goal attempts in 2011 when Casey was sidelined. Last year he made two of three attempts. Moore has made 72 of 73 extra point attempts in his career and is 8-of-10 on the year in field goal opportunities.

New Nike Uniforms in 2013

Together with Nike, Carolina unveiled a new collection of football uniform designs and colors for the 2013 season at the annual Spring Game in April. The new uniforms feature Nike Pro Combat technology.

The Tar Heels have three different jersey options available in 2013, including a Carolina blue top with black numbers, a white jersey with black numbers and a black jersey with blue numbers. Carolina has three pant options - Carolina blue, white and black.

The Carolina blue top and white pant will continue as the traditional home uniform. The away uniform is a streamlined look in all white, and an all black alternate uniform has Carolina blue numbers. A new customized font and typeface also serves a functional purpose as they are easier to read and more visible downfield. The stripes on the uniform pant and shoulders reflect the lines from the horns of a ram, Carolina's mascot.

The Nike design team worked closely with Tar Heel coaches and student-athletes to understand their unique approach to the game. Head coach Larry Fedora reminds his athletes to be "smart, fast and physical" on every play. This mantra is embroidered on the back neckline of the jersey to reinforce Fedora's message to the athletes as they suit up before each game.

The fully integrated uniform system incorporates the latest in performance innovation where the athlete's baselayer works in concert with his entire uniform - true innovation from the inside out. Lightweight padding is integrated directly into the crucial "hit zones" in the baselayer. Innovations include integrated Fly-wire technology in the neckline for reduced weight and lockdown fit over pads. Additionally, increased sleeve articulation provides better range of motion and four-way stretch fabrication delivers a streamlined shrink-wrap fit. The design enables speed without compromise.

Zero Dark Thursday

North Carolina wore its new all-black uniforms against Miami on Thursday, Oct. 17, at Kenan Stadium. Billed as "Zero Dark Thursday," the Tar Heels faced the Hurricanes on national television in just the second ESPN Thursday night home game in school history.

The all-black uniform on "Zero Dark Thursday" was the first installment of the new "Tar Pit Series," which will feature an alternate uniform or helmet for one game each year. This year's alternate uniform color has been taken from the black tar in the Tar Heel logo.

Eight Wins...

Carolina has won eight games in four of the last five seasons. Prior to the 2012 season, the last time Carolina won eight games was in 2010 after beating Tennessee in the Music City Bowl in Nashville. Carolina also won eight regular season games in 2008 and 2009, but those wins were vacated due to NCAA penalty.

Head coach Larry Fedora won more regular-season games (eight) than any first-year coach in school history. In 2001, John Bunting also won eight games, including a victory over Auburn in the Peach Bowl.

Tar Heel Coaches in the NFL

There are approximately two dozen coaches/ key administrators in the NFL today who are either former Tar Heels or have ties to Chapel Hill. The royal blue of the Indianapolis Colts has a decided accent of Carolina blue. Two former Tar Heels are on the staff there--QB coach Clyde Christensen was a Tar Heel quarterback in the 1970s, and director of player engagement David Thornton was a linebacker from 1998-2001. Head coach Chuck Pagano spent one year as defensive coordinator at Carolina in 2007, and WR coach Charlie Williams was on Butch Davis's staff for five years. Assistant offensive line coach Hal Hunter just joined the Colts staff from San Diego; he was on John Bunting's staff for five years from 2002-06.

Elsewhere on NFL coaching/staff rosters:

- New York Jets-TE coach Steve Hagen (UNC asst. 2007-8)
- Jacksonville-S&C coach Tom Myslinski (UNC 2011)
- Tennessee-Asst. O-Line/TE coach Arthur Smith (Letterman 2005)

- Denver-Scout Nick Schiralli (UNC GA, player personnel 2002-05).

NORTH CAROLINA & THE NFL DRAFT

- In the first round of the 2013 NFL Draft, North Carolina offensive guard Jonathan Cooper was selected seventh overall by the Arizona Cardinals and defensive tackle Sylvester Williams was picked 28th overall by the Denver Broncos. North Carolina has now produced six first-round draft picks since 2008. That is the most of any ACC school. Boston College and Florida State rank second with five.
- The Tar Heels had first-round picks in 2008 (Kewan Balmer, 29th overall), 2009 (Hakeem Nicks, 29th overall), 2011 (Robert Quinn, 14th overall), 2012 (Quinton Coples, 16th overall) and 2013 (Jonathan Cooper, 7th overall; Sylvester Williams, 28th overall)

Most First-Round NFL Draft Picks in ACC Since 2008

- 6 – Carolina – 2008, 2009, 2011, 2012, 2013 (2)

- The last time two Tar Heels were picked in the first round was 2002 when DE Julius Peppers was picked No. 2 by the Carolina Panthers and DT Ryan Sims went sixth overall to the Kansas City Chiefs.
- At No. 7, Cooper is the sixth-highest pick all-time from North Carolina. Only Ken Willard (No. 2 in 1965), Ken Huff (No. 3 in 1975), Lawrence Taylor (No. 2 in 1981), Peppers (No. 2 in 2002) and Sims (No. 6 in 2002) were selected higher than Cooper.
- Cooper is the fourth offensive lineman picked in the first round from UNC. The others were Huff in 1975 (No. 3 overall), Brian Blados in 1984 (No. 28) and Harris Barton in 1987 (No. 22). Huff is the only other guard to be picked in the first round from UNC.
- Cooper is the first offensive guard selected in the top 10 of the NFL Draft since 1997 when Colorado's Chris Naeole was selected by the New Orleans Saints at No. 10. He is the highest selected offensive guard since Bill Fralic was taken No. 2 by Atlanta in 1985.
- Williams is the first defensive tackle from UNC selected in the first round since Balmer was taken at No. 29 by San Francisco in 2008.
- Carolina has had 22 all-time first-round draft picks, which ranks just outside the top 25 in the country. It is, however, the most of any school in the state, ahead of NC State (15), Duke (5) and Wake Forest (4).
- Half (11) of Carolina's 22 all-time first-round draft picks have been defensive linemen. Over the last 18 years, a Carolina defensive lineman has been selected in the first round on 10 occasions.
- Giovani Bernard became the first running back taken in the 2013 NFL Draft when he was taken by the Cincinnati Bengals with the fifth pick of the second round (37th overall). It is the first time Carolina has produced the first tailback of the draft. Ethan Horton, a running back at UNC, was selected in the 1984 draft, but played exclusively tight end in the NFL.

- Bernard became the first Tar Heel tailback taken in the second round since Natrone Means in 1993. Bernard is the highest selected tailback from UNC since Horton in 1984. Horton played tight end in the NFL.
- Offensive tackle Brennan Williams was selected in the third round by the Houston Texans (89th overall) and Travis Bond was selected in the seventh round by the Minnesota Vikings (214th overall). Williams and Bond were the second and third offensive linemen (Cooper is the other) selected in this year's draft. It is the first time three Tar Heel offensive linemen have been taken in the same draft.
- A total of 25 Carolina players have been selected in the NFL Draft since 2008, which equals the most of any ACC school. Carolina is tied with Clemson and Florida State. Two Tar Heels were picked in the 2008 draft, five in 2009, two in 2010, a league-high nine in 2011, two in 2012 and five in 2013.

LARRY FEDORA
Head Coach
Second Year at UNC

More than a year ago at his introductory press conference, Larry Fedora stood in front of a packed room at UNC's Loudermilk Center and promised to provide an entertaining product. At one point he even told the gathering that you if you leave your seat to go to the concession stand, you're probably going to miss a touchdown. He did not disappoint. In his first year in Chapel Hill, Fedora's Tar Heels posted more than 35 school offensive records, won eight games and tied for first in the ACC's Coastal Division.

Led by a group of resilient seniors, Fedora led a focused team that lived by his mantra of playing "smart, fast and physical." He hopes to build off that momentum as he enters his second season as UNC's head coach. He is the 35th head coach in Carolina history and the 11th since the ACC was formed in 1953.

Fedora's first season in Chapel Hill was highlighted by a 6-1 mark at home, including a thrilling 43-35 victory over NC State and a 48-34 win against Virginia Tech. Giovani Bernard's 74-yard punt return in the final seconds of the NC State game ended Carolina's five-game losing skid to its nearby rival and set off a wild celebration on the UNC sidelines. The Virginia Tech game saw Carolina rush for 339 yards, the most since 2004, as the Tar Heels posted 533 total yards of offense. It was also the most points the Hokies had allowed in a game since joining the ACC. Carolina also posted home victories over Elon, East Carolina, Idaho and Maryland, and picked up road wins at Miami and Virginia. It marked the first time a UNC coach had won at Virginia in his first attempt since Dick Crum in 1979.

Carolina's players benefitted from Fedora's up-tempo style of play. Offensive guard Jonathan Cooper and defensive tackle Sylvester Williams were selected in the first round of the 2013 NFL Draft by Arizona (No. 7) and Denver (No. 28), respectively. It was just the second time Carolina had produced multiple first-round picks in the same season. Cooper was a consensus first-team All-America and became the first Outland Trophy finalist in UNC history. Williams, who prior to coming to UNC had worked in a factory making truck parts, was a stout run-stopper who earned first-team All-ACC honors.

Bernard, the fleet-footed runner from Ft. Lauderdale, led the league in rushing, earned first-team All-ACC honors at both running back and specialist and was the first tailback selected in the NFL Draft when Cincinnati picked him in the second round. Nine Tar Heels from the 2012 squad signed professional contracts, including five draft picks and four free agent signings. All three senior offensive linemen were drafted, including Cooper in the first round, Brennan Williams in the third and Travis Bond in the seventh.

Statistically, Carolina finished eighth in the country in scoring, averaging a school-record 40.6 points per game. The Tar Heels scored 30 or more points in nine of 12 games, and twice posted more than 60 points, including a school-record 66 against Idaho. Carolina was 14th in the nation in total offense, averaging a school-record 485.6 yards per game. It marked the fifth consecutive year as a head coach that Fedora's offense has gained more than 5,000 total yards.

The Tar Heels also excelled on special teams, finishing 10th in net punting and 10th in punt return average. Bernard was second nationally in punt returns and fourth as an all-purpose runner.

Fedora came to Carolina after four seasons as head coach at Southern

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA • GOHEELS.COM • @TARHEELFOOTBALL

Miss's graduation success rate (GSR) ranked second in CUSA in the 2009-10 academic year and third during the 2010-11 academic year. In 2009, USM was recognized by the AFCA for its graduation success rate.

The Southern Miss job was Fedora's first head coaching assignment after excelling in the collegiate ranks as an assistant. He spent three seasons as the offensive coordinator at Oklahoma State from 2005-07 where the Cowboys raised their rushing, passing and total offensive yards each year with Fedora at the helm. In 2006, the Cowboys were one of just two teams - the other being Boise State - to average over 200 yards both rushing and passing.

The OSU offense averaged over 30 points per contest over his final two seasons as well. The Cowboys made the biggest improvement in the country in scoring following his second season of running the offense, jumping from 96th nationally in 2005 to 7th in 2006.

Prior to his stint at Oklahoma State, Fedora spent three seasons at Florida as run game coordinator (2002), perimeter game coordinator (2003) and offensive coordinator (2004). He also coached the running backs and receivers all three seasons.

In 2004, Fedora's Gators ranked first in the SEC in six different categories including passing offense (271.1), total offense (426.9), third down conversion percentage (47.8), touchdown passes (29), pass attempts (407) and pass completions (243).

Before going to Florida, Fedora was the offensive coordinator at Middle Tennessee from 1999-2001. In three seasons at MTSU, Fedora's offense averaged 424 yards of total offense, 181 rushing yards and 31 points per game. With Fedora as their offensive coordinator, the Blue Raiders set 43 school records over three seasons.

Fedora began his coaching career as a graduate assistant (1986) at Austin College. He then served as an assistant coach at Garland (Texas) High School from 1987-90. Fedora returned to the collegiate ranks in 1991, serving as the tight ends, wide receivers and running backs coach at Baylor, where he stayed until 1996. He then spent two seasons (1997-98) at Air Force coaching the passing game and wide receivers.

As a player, Fedora was a wide receiver at Austin College (1981-84) in Sherman, Texas. He helped lead the Kangaroos to the NAIA championship in 1981. He earned academic All-American honors in 1983, and honorable mention All-American in both 1983 and 1984.
